Benediction

New Paint. New Leak.

You may have noticed the new paint smell as you entered the building today. Our preschool classrooms are freshly painted. Plus, you may have pondered the open ceiling in our women's bathroom. The drain pan for our second floor air conditioning unit clogged resulting in water overflowing into the first floor bathroom. While we are deeply grateful for our grant monies which funded the paint project, the repair invoices for the leak come from our church budget. If you have ever celebrated a new home project to turn around and endure a surprise home repair, you know how our chair of trustees has felt this week. Between coordinating contractors, emptying trashcans, mopping floors, and removing soaked ceiling tiles, we have recruited many of you. Thanks to Karen Goodale, Heather Williams, Dan Arnold, Doug Blom, Franklin Plumbing, and Perrys AC/Heat. We couldn't have done it without you.

Trustees meet today at 11:40 am in the conference room.

Collection of Items for Homeless

Konni, a MSW student at USC, is collecting items to support our local folks who are without secure shelter. Requested items are sports drinks or packets, summer shoes and clothes, hats, soft cereal bars, towels, toothbrushes, and similar hygiene products. Place your donations in the box in our breezeway. This project is advertised with our church and with our local neighborhoods.
